Dolly's Imagination Library encourages a love of reading

Perry's Rotary Club had the regular luncheon meeting on Monday, October 26th at Perry Golf & Country Club. Rotarian Laura Vollmer called the meeting to order beginning with the Pledge of Allegiance followed by a prayer by Rotarian Reverend Doctor Joshua Bell, then in unison the group sang the first verse of America.

October Junior Rotarians brought their parents Essie Boschee with her mom Shea and Rylan Rodgers was accompanied by her parents Ryan and Jennifer. Perry Public Schools has a busy week of academic, athletic and student activities ahead. The sixth-grade girls' basketball tournament at Ripley runs through Thursday. On Tuesday, PHS Student Council will host a movie night under the stars at Daniels Field beginning at 7 p.m. The Academic Team will compete against Pawhuska, while the junior high football team travels to Chisholm. Senior Leadership students will also visit the OSU ropes course.

On Thursday, Oct. 29, the high school girls' basketball team will travel to Meeker for a scrimmage. The week concludes Friday, Oct. 30, when the Perry High School football team hosts the Cascia Hall Commandos at Daniels Field.

Jessica Dvorak introduced Erin Bell, director of Early Literacy for the Oklahoma Partnership for School Readiness, as guest speaker at a recent meeting. Bell shared information about Dolly Parton's Imagination Library, a program that provides registered children from birth to age five with a free, age-appropriate book delivered to their homes each month.

The program helps children around the world discover the joy of reading. Bell emphasized the importance of early literacy, noting that 90% of brain development occurs before kindergarten. Developing a love of books during these formative years helps children build vocabulary, strengthen language skills and prepare for school. This is the time to encourage children to devour books like goldfish crackers.

Perry families can further encourage young readers by visiting the Perry Carnegie Library, where children and parents can check out books and explore a wide variety of reading materials. Combining monthly books from Dolly's Imagination Library with regular library visits gives children more opportunities to discover new stories and develop a lifelong love of reading.

When the program begins serving Noble County, a child's first book will be The Little Engine That Could, the first book Dolly Parton selected for the Imagination Library. The final book, delivered before the child's fifth birthday, will be Kindergarten, Here We Come! Together, the books mark the beginning of a child's reading journey and the transition toward a new chapter in the classroom.

The group then recited the 4-Way Test, and the meeting was adjourned.

Ryan Rodgers, Jennifer Kinzie, Rylan Rodgers, Essie Boschee and Shea Boschee.
