According to the report, the 29-year-old male driver exhibited signs of intoxication and field sobriety tests were performed.

Upon a search of the vehicle, three open cans of Michelob Ultra (cold to the touch with alcohol inside) were located in the passenger door pocket and one empty can was in the passenger floorboard, the report said.

According to the report, Kingfisher County Sheriff's Deputies Kejaun Joseph and Taylor Winters had attempted a traffic stop, but the vehicle continued northbound at a slow speed.

Renbarger said in his report that he deployed stop sticks, which were successful in deflating the subject's passenger side front tire and the vehicle stopped on the shoulder, north of the U.S. 81 and Starlite Drive intersection, but took off again when officers approached the vehicle.

The vehicle stopped again near U.S. 81 and Mitchell Boulevard and officers were able to remove the 45-year-old male suspect from the vehicle, the report said.

According to the report, the suspect appeared to exhibit signs of intoxication and, upon a search of the vehicle, a glass vial with a clear liquid substance inside it was located.

Wildlife commission approves a slate of rules changes, resolutions

Oklahoma Wildlife Conservation commissioners approved three emergency rules and five resolutions affecting hunting, fishing and wildlife during their regular meeting June 22 in Oklahoma City.

The emergency rules will begin immediately, but will be considered as permanent additions during the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation's regular rule change process later this year.

The new rules:

- Create a two-day waiting period for any nonresident deer hunting license purchased while the season is open.

- Establish a license for outfitters and hunting guides operating waterfowl and sandhill crane hunts.

- Create rules for the Chronic Wasting Disease Genetic Improvement Program regarding release of deer on private property.

Commissioners approved these resolutions:

- For migratory game birds, setting 2026-27 hunting season dates and bag limits; defining youth waterfowl hunters as those 17 and younger; and aligning woodcock hunting season more closely with quail season.

- For antlerless deer, setting 2026-27 hunting season dates and bag limits by zone; prohibiting mule deer doe harvest statewide during muzzleloader and gun seasons; and opening muzzleloader season to antlerless hunting opportunity in the Panhandle.

- For elk, setting the 2026-27 hunting season dates, bag limits and quotas by zone, creating a Special Southeast Zone (areas in Carter and Murray counties east of Interstate 35); increasing harvest quotas in the Panhandle and Special Northwest zones; adding a few more days of hunting opportunity in the Special

Southwest Zone; and defining antlerless elk as showing less than 6 inches of antler above the natural hairline.

- For black bear, eliminating the quota for muzzleloader season.

- For crappie, altering daily limits at specified water bodies (notably setting daily limits of 20 for Lake Eufaula and Atoka Lake) but leaving the general statewide daily limit at 37 crappie per day.

Also during the meeting, commissioners welcomed a $293,250 donation from the Oklahoma Wildlife Conservation Foundation (OWCF).

Executive Director Sean McCabe said the donation reflects a very successful Call of the Wild fundraising gala this past year.

This donation lifted OWCF's total financial support for conservation to more than $500,000 in the past year.

The nonprofit foundation was formed in 2018 to encourage private donor support to the Wildlife Department.

In other business, the commission:

- Approved a Fiscal Year 2027 budget totaling $88.6 million, which is a 9 percent decrease from the FY 2026 budget of $97.6 million.

- Received updates from Director Wade Free on various activities within ODWC's five divisions, including a report on a Fisheries Division project to address crappie overpopulation in Boomer Lake. ODWC staff, volunteers and Oklahoma State University students removed 23,508 crappie from the 275-acre lake in Stillwater.

- Approved the appointment of two new directors to the OWCF board (Mark Mabrey and Matt Schuermann) and thanked outgoing Commissioner John P. Zellbst from District 6 for his 16 years of service.
